

Dear Primary 4R,

It's the summer holidays next week and I hope you are all looking forward to the stretch of time we will have- 'officially' off from school. I know this term has been one big roller coaster for us all and something none of us could have ever predicted. When you look back over this time you will all have different memories and different experiences of lockdown. However, I hope this has shown you that people always unite and come together when times get tough. From the heroes working in NHS, care homes and support workers across the country, to those opening up the supermarkets for us, to the unbelievable amount of work schools have put in to try and meet a changing picture, there is lots to be very proud of. Perhaps there is someone in your own family you are particularly proud of? This time has not been easy for the adults either so let them know how much we all appreciate them!

For me, I am personally very proud of you all for being so strong during these strange times. Staying indoors might not have seemed like much but you have all helped our country get back on its feet and now we can look forward to seeing each other again in August! :)

As your teacher for Primary 4, I am proud of your progress and want you all to know what a special class you are. From the excitement of the Library of Everything to our class swimming lessons, you showed me that you are always willing to have a go at new and sometimes nerve-wracking things. You also showed me that you are willing to push yourselves to success. This was demonstrated by your sheer determination in our bucket filling board and Brag Tags, and even those of you who presented as Eco Assembly and those of you who performed in the Nativity. I have so enjoyed teaching you - my first ever Primary 4 class! You are not a class I will ever forget and cannot wait to see your big smiles when we come back to school next term.

For now though, put on that lovely smile and take a moment to feel proud of yourself. It's been a super eventful past few months- you all deserve the best holiday. Thank you for making me the happiest teacher this year!
Have a great summer holiday and see you in August.

Love from Miss Robertson :)
